Interactive Representations of Music in Digital Audio Workstations – Sample version

Tapani Pihlajamäki, Jussi Pekonen
Aalto University School of Electrical Engineering
Department of Signal Processing and Acoustics

tapani.pihlajamaki@aalto.fi

Abstract

The Abstract

Keywords — Keyword 1, keyword 2

1 Introduction

Introduction text.

2 Section 2

Figures are done with following technique.

Figure 1: This is the caption for text

(a)(b)
caption

Figure 2: You can reference subfigures also in captions. For example figure **??

2.1 Subsection 2.1

Subsection text.

3   Citations and referencing

There are two types of citations. "Normal" is this (?). You can also do a citation where you use the writers as a part of the text like this: This was done by **?.

References can be done to labels. This includes for example sections, figures, subfigures and tables. Here is an example. Reference to ??, to figure (see ??) and subfigure (see **??).

You can use url links. Mostly they are useful in references but you can also use them in text. For example www.google.com is your friend.

4   Tables

Tables are done like this (check the code). You can also reference them. Check **??.

Table 1: Table caption is here

cell 1	cell 2	cell 3	cell 4
5	6	7	8
9	10	11	12

5   Long text

This is a long long text to enable good layout of figures and tables. Long text is long and long.

Long text is long and long. Long text is long and long. Long text is long and long. Long text is long and long. Long text is long and long. Long text is long and long. Long text is long and long. Long text is long and long. Long text is long and long. Long text is long and long. Long text is long and long. Long text is long and long. Long text is long and long. Long text is long and long. Long text is long and long. Long text is long and long. Long text is long and long. Long text is long and long. Long text is long and long.

6 Conclusions

Conclusions text.